REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

To the citizens of Loudon:—

The Superintending School Committee respectfully submits the following report :—

DISTRICT No. 1.—WHITE.

Miss Mabel Osgood, teacher of both terms.

Miss Osgood is a young teacher, but she shows marked ability as such, and seems to be in her natural element when governing a school. Both terms were a decided success.

DISTRICT No. 2.—YELLOW.

Both terms were taught by Miss Nellie Brown.

This district may well consider itself fortunate in securing the services of this able teacher. Miss Brown showed herself mistress of the situation. Thoroughness and perfect understanding of every topic was signal at the examination.

DISTRICT No. 3.—VILLAGE.

PRIMARY.

Miss May Martin, teacher of the summer term.

This school has many bright and attractive scholars, and the teacher was one who thoroughly understood her business ; hence the advancement made did great credit to both teacher and scholars.

Fall term taught by Miss Emma O. Curtice, of Concord.

Good luck seemed to attend this school during the year, for Miss Curtice was the right person in the right place. Good success, great advancement, and good-will of parents and scholars was the result of her efforts.

GRAMMAR.

Miss May Martin, of Concord, teacher.

This department had but one term, and at the close it showed that a vast amount of study had been done by the scholars and an equal amount of training by the teacher, to accomplish the results which were acquired during the term. Miss Martin's method of instruction cannot be excelled.

DISTRICT No. 4.—CLOUGH'S HILL.

Summer term taught by Miss Addie M. Clough.

This was her first attempt at teaching, and, of course, it was new work, but she labored with a determination to surmount all difficulties, and success crowned her work in every particular. She will make a fine teacher with practice.

Miss Alice Ladd, of Chichester, teacher of winter term.

This school secured the services of a first-class teacher, and the term would have been of unusual profit, if it had not been broken up by measles. She governs without fear, and her school was a model one.

DISTRICT No. 5.—BROWN.

Henry Drake, of Pittsfield, teacher of the only term this school had during the year. Mr. Drake needs no other praise than the school itself, which was just what it should be in all things. A large amount of ground was covered and thoroughly understood.

DISTRICT No. 6.—LOWER RIDGE.

Miss Jennie E. Ordway, teacher of summer term.

Miss Ordway labored hard for the advancement of the scholars in her charge, and the scholars were appreciative enough of her efforts to try hard themselves, and the result was a model school, with much improvement and a fine examination.

Miss Rosa J. Eaton, teacher of winter term.

This school at the close passed a fair examination, and there are some very fine scholars here who need thorough teachers. The declamations and recitations at close were fine and well rendered.

DISTRICT No. 7.—MOORE.

Summer term taught by Miss Hattie C. Colby, who taught here several terms previous to this, and the scholars were accustomed to her method, and were ready to start in earnest at the beginning of the term. Good order prevailed and harmony. Miss Colby is a good teacher, and success was the result of this school.

Miss Lizzie Whittemore, teacher of winter term.

This teacher has numbered among our first-class ones for several years, and no topic is ever passed until it is thoroughly comprehended by the scholars. Under Miss Whittemore's instruction this school made good advancement and passed a fine examination.

DISTRICT No. 8.—OSBORNE.

Miss Lilla A. Merrill, teacher of summer term.

Miss Merrill gave perfect satisfaction to parents, and was admired by scholars. Her pleasing manner gained the confidence of her pupils, and their united efforts caused the best results, and deserve much praise.

Miss Jennie E. Ordway, teacher of winter term.

Miss Ordway is very cool and calculating in all emergencies, and managed this school with perfect success. The amount of matter is no part of her method, but the quality of it is her motto.

DISTRICT No. 9.—HILL.

Miss Georgia Powell, teacher of summer term.

Miss Powell tried hard to have all the improvement possible made, and succeeded well. The number of scholars was small, and attendance very irregular; hence she could not have the improvement that she labored for.

N. W. Lovering, teacher of winter term. Reported by Mrs. S. D. Hill.

Teachers in this district labor under two disadvantages—outside talk and short terms. During this term good progress was made in all branches. Special attention was given to reading, and no scholars in town or elsewhere, of the same age, can excel those of this school. All who know the benefits of a good education appreciated this term of school. Hope we may secure his services many terms.

DISTRICT No. 10.—PLEASANT STREET.

Miss Emma O. Curtice, of Concord, teacher of both terms.

Miss Curtice has taught this school several terms previous to this, and is a number-one teacher. She has a level head which did her good service during the term, and those who came to learn made excellent progress. I hope this district will get united, and be in reality a union district.

DISTRICT No. 11.—NEW DOVER.

Summer term taught by Miss M. E. Saltmarsh, of Bow.

Miss Saltmarsh doubtless tried hard to make this school a success, and a fair degree of advancement was made. The order was not the best, and consequently some time was lost.

Winter term taught by Miss Lilla A. Merrill, of Pittsfield.

This teacher is young, but has the qualities of a first-class teacher, and she managed this large school in a manner which gave her much credit as a teacher. Miss Merrill will make one of the best teachers, if she follows this occupation. The scholars are well advanced in this school, and apply themselves in a creditable manner.

DISTRICT No. 12.—UPPER RIDGE.

Miss Carrie Moore, of Gilmanton, teacher of the only term that this school had during the year.

Miss Moore gave satisfaction to all those who sent scholars. At the close I found much to commend in the general appearance of the school. These scholars are well advanced and very studious.

DISTRICT No. 13.—CATE.

Miss Lizzie Whittemore, teacher of both terms.

Miss Whittemore has managed this school successfully for several terms previous to this year, which is recommendation enough of her abilities as a teacher. The classes in geography were excelled by no other school, and equalled by only one. Rhetorical exercises at close were very interesting.
